Töben takes the cup of poison rather than believe that which is not true

Poster Boy - Dr Töben honoured in prison newspaper

Page 4 of the Cadell Courier, the monthly newspaper of Cadell Training Centre, where Dr Töben was imprisoned for three months. Since he started this initiative, several other prisoners have followed suit.

Töben seemed to have enjoyed his little holiday immensely, the food was good and he has made lots of new friends. He was released on 12th November, exactly three calendar months or 13 weeks. A naughty boy like him, who refuses to believe the silly World War Two Holocaust propaganda, will probably end up back in there again before too long!

HARD AT IT

POSTER BOY

You may have noticed in the last few weeks that the wooden posts around the visits area and the walking track are looking a lot nicer due to a fresh coat of white paint. Well, this beautification is all down to the work of one man – Fredrick Töben.

While out for a walk, Fredrick noticed that there were a few signs and other fixtures that he thought could do with a bit of sprucing up. When he suggested this to the relevant authorities, he was challenged to "put your money where your mouth is", and given the job of repainting the whole lot!

Rather than being put off by this daunting task, Fredrick saw it as an opportunity to do something constructive with his time and make this place we're all forced to call home that little bit more pleasant. Plus he reckons the constant bending and painting is better than a work-out at the gym ☺.

So if you think there's some way this place could be improved, don't just whinge about it – get involved! It could be repair work, landscaping, beautification, ideas for new facilities or activities, whatever. Speak to your case officer, your needs committee rep, the CMCA, whoever it takes, but MAKE IT HAPPEN!

And remember, if you want something done, sometimes you have to do it yourself.

A Letter to Dr. Töben by Brett Light

Real History
September 11th, 2009

Dr. Fredrick Töben,

Firstly I'd like to express my full support for your work successfully exposing the biggest fraud of the twentieth century! You are to be congratulated for your courage and willingness to stare this Zionist criminal network in the eyes and not recant.

I have studied the Adelaide Institute video 'Judea Declares War On Germany' among many other truthful 'revisionist' accounts of the Holocaust™. They are neither hateful nor vague accounts of WW2 history. Quite the opposite, the facts all add up. This is no doubt why the Jewish hatermonger's have to imprison free-thinkers like yourself.

The 100% total victory of revisionism in all areas of holocaust study is acknowledged by Jewry through the persecution of revisionists worldwide. The Jews have destroyed our right to free speech and, yes, we really are living in Talmudistan! It really does boil the blood knowing the lengths they will go to in order to enforce their Holocaust™ religion. Would it ever cross the law makers minds that enforcing belief in the Holocaust™ and not allowing Germans and other truth seekers to use TRUTH to defend themselves is by definition 'criminal insanity'.

I, for one, am not standing idly by whilst Zionists criminalise our thoughts. When a person knows the truth behind such a monstrous fraud it is not only his right to express the truth, but also his duty. In that sense I have alerted my friends and family to the criminal falsification of history by Zionists and I will continue to do so.

If you'd like any extra help in spreading the truth I'm all ears. Not exactly sure what else I can do but new ideas are welcome.

Anyway, here's to hoping your 'Gulag Holiday' passes swiftly. Always bear in mind, your three month stint inside brings free-thinkers worldwide to greater awareness of the truth!

Raise a glass to the TRUTH! Cheers!

Yours Sincerely,

Brett Light

Subject: greetings to Dr.Toben

"For whatever is hidden is meant to be disclosed, and whatever is concealed is meant to be brought out in the open."
Mark's gospel 4:22

Dear Dr Toben,

I write to you today on your release from the Cadell detention centre/jail or whatever the Jews want to call it. Let me start by saying to you that I remembered you in my prayers every day. I prayed for your strength, sanity and health while you were at Cadell.

I visited the Adelaide Institute website on a daily basis for updates on your welfare and to support Peter in his fight for the truth while you were "away". As you can see much has happened in three months.

I am terribly disappointed that I can not attend your honourary dinner tonight, but I hope to meet up with you soon.

I guess like all of your supporters we are all asking the same question. What now for Dr. Töben? What does he intend on doing now?

I will let you answer that question for us. I did not suppose that for one minute that you would be investing in a golf set and setting off down to Victor Harbour for a "quiet" retirement as the Jews have hoped you would or should do!!

I often start the day in prayer and meditation. It is interesting to note that on the day of your release the bible verse of the day at the top of my devotional was that quote from the gospel of St Mark. I put it at the top of the letter for you to read it. I do not think that it is a coincidence that it is the verse for today because it is a verse that glaringly speaks to you also and to your fight.

You MUST continue the fight. WE all must continue in exposing lies and the wicked works of darkness. I personally believe that it is also spiritual for the Zionist Jews. The Jews crucified Christ. If the Son Of God was fair game to them, then we mere mortals are fairer game to them also!

The Jews, unfortunately are masters of deception.

The majority of Judeo-Zionist activities over history reveals that Jews have gone down the sewer of humanity progressively, entering a realm of racism, sadism, narcissism, psychopathy, ignorance and its mirroring arrogance, amorality, vulgarity, depravity, war-mongering, genocide, theft.... these actions have thrown Jews back into the dark ages, with middle age mentality to say the least!

I apologise if I wrote too much but these people always without fail make my blood boil. I agonise between praying for them, forgiving them and downright cursing them all with the same breath.

I will end by saying I am truly happy that you are out of jail and that you are now physically free to carry on with the fight. They might have physically detained you but you and I know that your mind, heart and souls remained free.

Always,

Suzanne Sweaney

'Stalin victims' found in Belarus

The remains of more than 20 suspected victims of Joseph Stalin's secret police have been found in the basement of a church in northern Belarus.

Soviet bullets were found with the remains at Glubokoye, a village which had been in Poland but fell into Soviet hands in 1939.

A youth group discovered the remains earlier this week, reports say.

Local historians said the victims had most probably been shot by the NKVD secret police between 1939 and 1941.

"I think we can all but rule out any suggestion that these people were shot by the Germans during the occupation," historian Igor Kuznetsov told Reuters.

"First, there are the cartridge cases from Soviet weapons. Second, the Germans carried out public executions and these people were killed in secret, in a manner typical of the NKVD."

Soviet forces occupied eastern Poland in 1939 after the signing of the Nazi-Soviet Non-Aggression Pact. Nazi Germany invaded the Soviet Union in June 1941.

In 1940, more than 21,000 Polish army officers and intellectuals were executed on Stalin's direct orders in the Katyn Forest near the city of Smolensk, in western Russia.

For decades, the Soviet authorities blamed Nazi Germany for the Katyn massacre.

Kevin MacDonald: Anger in White America, July 23, 2009

Sarah Palin emerged in the presidential campaign of 2008 as the candidate of the Republican base — the people the globalist elites in the party pander to every four years so that if everything breaks right, they may have a chance of winning. Palin is the very image of White fertility and small town Americana — all that the globalist Republican elite despises. 'Despises' is much too mild a word for how the Democrats see her.

Palin resigned her position as governor of Alaska, so the media indulged itself with yet another hate-fest. Frank Rich's op-ed in the New York Times was more interesting than most because he sees the big picture. And he is very happy with what he sees:

[Sarah Palin] is not just the party's biggest star and most charismatic television performer; she is its only star and charismatic performer. Most important, she stands for a genuine movement: a dwindling white nonurban America that is aflame with grievances and awash in self-pity as the country hurtles into the 21st century and leaves it behind. ... [Nonurban Whites are] a constituency that feels disenfranchised — by the powerful and the well-educated who gamed the housing bubble, by a news media it keeps being told is hateful, by the immigrants who have taken some of their jobs, by the African-American who has ended a white monopoly on the White House. Palin is their born avatar. She puts a happy, sexy face on ugly emotions, and she can solidify her followers' hold on a G.O.P. that has no leaders with the guts or alternative vision to stand up to them or to her.

My Translation: The elites in the financial sector with the blessings (or at least the naiveté of the political class) created this wonderful housing bubble that created a lot of illusory wealth. The collapse after the bubble burst has cost the US trillions of dollars, has cost millions of people their jobs, and has resulted in a deep recession. Nonurban Whites — the people who support Palin — were so stupid and uneducated that they actually trusted these elites, and now they are paying the price while the folks who got us into this mess are still collecting their bonuses — often with the help of government bailout money. These rubes should have been smart enough to game the system, but they weren't.

These country bumpkins are also upset because they are losing political power and are being pushed aside by millions of non-White immigrants. They hate the media even though the mainstream media — as personified by Frank Rich — is a fount of wisdom and rationality — immune to the ugly emotions of the losers.

The end game in the long campaign against nonurban Whites is near. Rich writes that "The Palinst 'real America' is demographically doomed to keep shrinking."

And of course that's the bottom line. Never before in American history has it seemed so obvious that demography is destiny. Whites were 77% of the electorate in 2004, but slipped to 74% in 2008, and the percentage will continue to decline. If Whites are 71% of the electorate in 2012, then the Republicans would have to attract around 63% of Whites to get a majority (assuming Whites continue to represent 90% of the Republican vote). This is quite a bit higher than Bush in 2004 (58%) or McCain in 2008 (55%).

I recently heard Rush Limbaugh say confidently and soothingly to his listeners that politics is cyclical and the Republicans will be back in power soon. But the reality is that they won't come back without some dramatic changes in voting patterns. And if the dramatic change is an increase in Black or Latino votes — as quite a few influential Republicans advocate, the result certainly won't be good for nonurban Whites.

This in turn means that a great many White voters will feel that they are in a permanent position of powerlessness if present trends continue, and that will lead to anger and a sense of political desperation.

Rich's comments are partially fueled by an article in Politico describing the rage of a lot of ordinary White people — a rage that has led to a surge in conservative media: "The emotions fueling this media boomlet sometimes border on a barely suppressed rage." This hostility is driven by "a sense of frustration and anger among the Republican Party's core conservative base — and a power vacuum at the top of the party that lacks a national leader to set its course."

Examples:

"I CANT SLEEP SEEING this country being destroyed DAMM IT OVER my dead body I will let this happen/THESE BASTARDS HAVE GOT TO BE STOPPED IMMEDIATELY."

"Bottomline, do you know of any way we can remove these idiots before this country goes down the crapper? I WILL HELP!!! Should I buy a gun? Should I store produce, etc?"

"Another American revolution will have to be fought — there will be blood."

Some of the commentary on the Sonia Sotomayor hearings also brought up charges that the real subtext was angry White people — in this case Republican senators:

The GOP senators "were playing to the angry white male voter. Some of the remarks were clearly about saying that 'you' can say things that 'we' can't," said Julian Zelizer, a professor of history and public affairs at Princeton University.

"These kinds of comments attacking ethnic pride and the benefits of diversity in any institution — which is really what her remark was about — combined with the Ricci case looked like backlash politics, pure and simple."

Such ugly emotions! Or at least that's what Rich labels them. For intellectuals like Rich and Zelizer, the value of diversity trumps the legitimate interests of Whites every time. Any protest is "backlash politics" or mindless emoting by angry White males.

But of course such emotions are absolutely normal for people who are seeing their country taken away from them. The fact that only certain people are allowed to have ethnic pride or a sense of ethnic interests makes no logical sense and clearly tramples on legitimate interests of Whites. Bloody revolutions have been motivated by far less grievance — legitimate and well-founded grievance — than ordinary Whites have right now. Certainly the behavior of the British government prior to the Revolutionary War was far less dispossessive of the colonists than the behavior of the contemporary American elites is to ordinary White Americans.

The fact is that elites in politics, the media, and the financial sector have completely abandoned ordinary White folks in America, and particularly the "nonurban Whites" who are the focus of Rich's article. The only thing that's surprising and perhaps depressing is that the main outlet for this anger is to purchase mainstream conservative media, the vast majority of which does little more than redirect this anger into harmless and ineffective sideshows like libertarianism or small government. If it doesn't talk about stopping and reversing the effects of immigration and developing an explicit sense of White identity and interests, it's not worth talking about.

The Republicans seem bent on committing suicide rather than abandoning their principled hostility to ethnic identity politics for Whites. But, as Peter Brimelow notes, if that is the policy of the Republican Party, another party must and will be formed that do exactly that.

So how did normal anger about being dispossessed come to be an "ugly" emotion to the point that a third-rate mind like Frank Rich can confidently describe it that way in a prestigious publication like the New York Times? The paper trail can be traced to the Frankfurt School and their allies and publicists among the New York

Intellectuals. These intellectuals developed theories based ultimately on psychoanalysis in which hostility about being displaced by other groups was attributed to all sorts of repressions and anxieties. People who opposed their own displacement were described as irrational and as suffering from psychopathology. (Tell that to the Palestinians.)

And if professors connected to Harvard and the University of Chicago can call such emotions "ugly," certainly Frank Rich can. It's all about controlling the moral high ground via control of the most prestigious academic and media institutions. Intellectually insecure Whites, including a great many who are well-educated, will silently nod their heads in agreement and think that they are very moral indeed for having the same attitudes as Frank Rich.

The only difference is that Frank Rich's attitudes are entirely congruent with his ethnic interests, while the silently nodding, morally uplifted White folks are agreeing with attitudes that are entirely opposed to their ethnic interests.

An interesting feature of the literature produced by the Frankfurt School and the New York Intellectuals is hostility toward lower middle class Whites. Historically, this was motivated by the realization among many Jewish intellectuals that the lower middle class in Germany in the end opted for National Socialism instead of communism at a time when sympathetic views of communism dominated the mainstream among Jewish intellectuals. The behavior of the German lower middle class violates Marxist dogma because Marxists believe that class interest should be stronger than racial allegiances. The response of these intellectuals was to develop theories in which the lower middle class was the root of all evil.

Translated to America, these intellectuals were quite wary of American populism because of its tendency to be responsive to the demands of ordinary Americans rather than elites on issues such as immigration policy. Throughout the 20th century non-urban Whites — "the common people of the South and West," as John Higham called them — were steadfastly against liberal immigration policies and they remain opposed to such policies today.

This intellectual elite represented by Frank Rich despises these people. As Chrisopher Lasch noted some time ago, from the perspective of these intellectuals, this class clung to outworn folkways — conventional religiosity, hearth and home, the sentimental cult of motherhood—and obsolete modes of production. It looked back to a mythical golden age in the past. ... Lacking liberal culture, it fell easy prey to all sorts of nostrums and political fads.

Frank Rich is happy because he thinks these people are in irreversible demographic decline brought on by massive non-White immigration. He may be right. But by the looks of things, they are pretty upset about the way things are going, and that is bound to have political repercussions.

More bombs were dropped on the city of Berlin than were released on the whole of Great Britain during the entire war.

All German towns and cities above 50,000 population were from 50% to 80% destroyed. Dresden with a population larger than that of Liverpool was incinerated with up to 300,000 civilian burned and buried in the ruins.

Hamburg was totally destroyed and 70,000 civilians died in the most appalling circumstances whilst Cologne with a population greater than Glasgow's was turned into a moonscape.

As Hamburg burned the winds feeding the three mile high flames reached twice hurricane speed to exceed 150 miles per hour. Trees three feet in diameter on the outskirts of the city, were sucked from the ground by the supernatural forces of these winds and hurled miles into the city-inferno, as were vehicles, men, women... and children.

The volcanic flames were hurled 5,000' into the sky. Four times the height of the Empire State Building. With gases they rose as high again caused meteorological reaction high as the stratosphere. Between 1940 and 1945, sixty-one German cities with a total population of 25 million souls were destroyed or devastated in a bombing campaign that was initiated by the British government. Destruction on this scale had no other purpose than the indiscriminate mass murder of as many German people as possible quite regardless of their civilian status. It led to bombing retaliation resulting in 60,000 British dead and 86,000 injured.
